My name is Mark S. Rojas based out of South Florida. I have been designing, installing, and maintaining landscapes for over 30 years.

OBJECTIVE

Landscape Design, Installation, and Maintenance

SKILLS

- Custom landscape design for commercial and large-scale residences
- Environmental Horticulture and plant identification
- Water features, falls and aquatics
- Nursery and tree farm management
- Outdoor lighting design and installation
- Turf care, irrigation design and installation

EXPERIENCE

For 30 years I was responsible for the creation, preparation, implementation, and sustainability of over 1000 residential and commercial South Florida properties emphasizing Green Earth care.

The projects undertaken gave my employers and customers a complete Earth safe way to care for all aspects of their landscaping by using green friendly ways to enhance their outdoor experience. Fertilization with organic materials, pest, and disease control was accomplished with minimal fuel.

Assignments include eco-friendly designs by using xeriscape practices to restore Florida's native species to their natural habitat. It brought to life and sustenance to ecosystems natural to the landscape project.

Ornamental plants, Interiorscapes, and Hardscapes were used for functional and aesthetic improvements that were designed to fit gardens, patios, and other recreational areas. Irrigation and nutrient management allowed for healthy growth of trees, ground covers, and floriculture.

Many successful projects included a careful landscape plan, the classification and placement of the plants, the cost management, and the training of personnel.

I have been employed as a landscape consultant and contractor by owners, developers, and architects from Key West to Palm Beach who can attest to the completion, integrity and perfection of the design.

CASE STUDY

In 1979 Hurricane David skimmed the shores of South Florida as a strong tropical storm. I orchestrated the prep work by providing a secure and an expeditious recovery to several residences and commercial properties.
